

Aims and Objectives

With many years experience, the management of Andrew Cohen House pride ourselves on offering a highly professional care service for the elderly, with a personal touch. We are pleased to accept residents for long term, short term for convalescence and holiday stays.

When people have worked hard throughout their life and have been committed to helping others, we think they deserve extra cherishing. They need a home where individuality is emphasised, with staff who have time to give attention to small detail, and where they have the choice of enjoying the company of like-minded fellow residents:

PRIVACY                    To have their personal privacy respected in all aspects, including entering bedrooms, toilets, bathrooms and following death.

DIGNITY                    To retain their personal dignity and independence irrespective of their severity of their physical or mental infirmity.
To have skilled, sensitive and understanding care to enable them to achieve the highest possible quality of life.

INDEPENDENCE        To be consulted about daily living arrangements in the home and to participate in discussions about proposed changes to these arrangements.
To manage their own personal affairs, including finances.

CHOICE                    To choose their own Medical Practitioner and Dentist and to consult them in private.
To have access to hearing & sight tests and appropriate aids, according to need and in every way to have access to those NHS Services to which they are entitled.

RIGHTS                    To be involved in the development and implementation of their Plan of Care.
To have a regular review of their individual circumstances, and to have the right to be present at any review meetings.

FULFILMENT            Enabling the resident to realise their own aims and helping them to achieve these goals in all aspects of daily living.
